Primary school to double in size

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

A PRIMARY school is set to double in size with plans for a new £1.6 million classroom block.

Coupals Primary Academy, in Haverhill's Chalkstone Way, wants to build eight new classrooms, expand its library and create a new performing arts studio.

The plans would see the number of pupils at the school rise from 243 to 420 after the new block is completed in September 2017.

There would also be more space for the Stepping Stones Pre-School, which operates on the same site.

Coupals headteacher David Maguire said: "There has been an imbalance of school places on our side of town compared to the amount of development that has taken place. So it is great that we will be able to help families in the town by offering more places.

"The project will allow us to create exciting environments and opportunities for pupils of all ages.

"There will be huge benefits with the new extension creating a number of new classrooms as well as room to expand our existing library so we will have more space for group work. We are also planning a studio space to offer more activities such as dance, drama and music.

"The school has been on the up since we joined the Samuel Ward Academy Trust and this is further exciting news for us all."

Mr Maguire – who attended Coupals himself as a child – added: "The recruitment process will be gradual as we estimate that it will be five years until the school is full. We will also recruit carefully and properly to ensure we get the best staff."

The building work is also set to create an extra classroom for Stepping Stones Pre-School. Children at the nursery are set to benefit as soon as the facilities are open.

Elaine McManus, who runs Stepping Stones, said: "Our plans are to have separate pre-school and baby and toddler areas. We are currently all in the one classroom with no office space, so it is not ideal. It is wonderful that we will be getting more space for our children."

The ambitious £1.6 million project – which will increase the number of classrooms for Key Stage Two pupils – has been funded by Suffolk County Council's capital programme. A planning application is set to be submitted next month.

A spokesperson for the county council said: "This development is part of our basic need plans to ensure that we have sufficient appropriate school places to meet growing demand."

Man found unconscious on bench is 'recovering'

POLICE cordoned off a bench on Sunday night after a man was found lying there unconscious.

The ambulance service was called at 8.05pm on Sunday to reports that a man had been found unconscious on a bench in Haverhill's recreation ground in Recreation Road.

The ambulance service sent a community first responder, a rapid response vehicle and an ambulance crew to the scene.

Police were called at around 8.30pm and initially believed he might have been a victim of a crime, however he had no visible injuries.

Police made enquiries, and a police cordon remained in place around the bench on Monday morning.

The man, in his 40s, was taken to Addenbrooke's Hospital in a critical condition.

Police believe members of the public tried to help by going to check on the man before the emergency services were called.

The man is now on the road to recovery.

He has given an account to police of the events of Sunday night, and they are satisfied that no crime was committed.

COURT

'Public danger' sent to prison for stabbings

COURT REPORTER

@Haverhill_News

A HAVERHILL man who was "out of control on drugs" when he carried out two attacks in the town has been jailed for more than seven years.

David Butler, 42, of Pipers Close, appeared last Thursday at Ipswich Crown Court after pleading guilty to unlawful wounding, false imprisonment and wounding with intent to cause grievous bodily harm.

The court heard how on September 13 last year, Butler had been at the home of his friend, Jamie Loryman, in Anglian Place, Haverhill.

Prosecuting, Charles Myatt said Butler had sprayed carpet cleaner into Mr Loryman's face before pinning him to the floor and telling him: "If you make any more noise I'll do you."

The court heard that after being tied up with electrical flex and scarves during the three hour-long incident and facing demands for money, Mr Loryman had eventually managed to escape by jumping from a first-floor window.

Mr Loryman suffered a spinal fracture, broken nose and a stab wound to his back which required eight stitches.

Mr Myatt said the second incident on September 28 happened at the home of Butler's partner in Pipers Close, Haverhill.

After Butler's partner argued with Liam Bonnet about money, Butler threatened to stab Mr Bonnet who fled into the street, colliding with a woman and children with a pushchair and fell over.

Mr Bonnet ended up pinned against the front of a passing car as he tried to fight off Butler. Mr Bonnet suffered three stab wounds to his head.

Appearing for Butler, Matthew Sorel-Cameron said that at the time of the attacks his client's drug use had been "spiralling out of control."

Butler, who had spent everything he earned on drugs, had acted out of character and had not behaved in this way before, said Mr Sorel-Cameron.

Jailing him for seven years, Judge Rupert Overbury said that Butler had been out of control on drugs when he committed two acts of "extreme violence."

Judge Overbury said he considered that Butler posed a danger to members of the public and sentenced him to 88 months imprisonment with an extended licence period of two years and eight months.

COMMUNITY

POPULAR MAN: Robert Grocott was always supportive of his friends and family

Family tribute to 'dedicated father'

TRIBUTES have been paid to a "dedicated father" who died in a crash just outside Haverhill earlier this month.

Robert Grocott, 56, of Hudson Close, Haverhill, died when his Land Rover Freelander and a Vauxhall Vivaro van collided on the A143 in Little Wratting on Saturday, May 7.

His family said in a tribute: "Robert was a much loved father of two sons and husband for 36 years; originally from Nottingham but was a popular member of the Haverhill community for 30 years. He served with the Grenadier Guards for six years and six years with the 13th/18th Royal Hussars.

"As a dedicated father he partook in refereeing football matches for children and adults alike.

"Amongst other things he was a member of the Haverhill Golf Club for many years. Robert was an enthusiastic sportsman and had many friends within an assortment of clubs not withstanding golf, judo clubs etc.

"Over the course of his varied career he has spent the majority of his life employed as an experienced HGV driver working for companies such as Culina and XPO Logistics in Bury St Edmunds.

"Robert's character was larger than life, a very popular man who was always supportive of his friends and family who are saddened and shocked at his sudden demise.

HANNAH MIRSKY

@HannahMirskyCN

"His friends used to say if anything was needed Robert would always be there for you."

When the crash happened, Mr Grocott was taking one of his sons and his son's friend, Stuart Mayes, back from a disability football match with the Cornard Dynamos, where he had been coaching and refereeing all day.

Will Hunt, manager of the Cornard Dynamos' disability football teams, said: "He's one of those chaps, you take him for who he is. On that day, he was fantastic with the boys. I have got boys of all ranges of disabilities and he was brilliant with all the boys."

Mr Hunt said Mr Grocott regularly came to matches.

He continued: "When I heard on Sunday morning, I just had to keep pinching myself. He was a fantastic guy."

The men in the car with Mr Grocott were both taken to Addenbrooke's Hospital in Cambridge after the crash, as were two men who had been travelling in the Vauxhall Vivaro van.

One of the four has been discharged from hospital, while the other three remain there in a serious but stable condition.

The family of Mr Mayes said they wanted to thank the paramedics and residents who had stayed with him after the crash until he was taken to the hospital.

Mr Mayes' mother, Margaret, said: "I think there was a lot of people who came out of the houses – they were obviously comforting him... his family are very grateful to the individuals that helped him."

She also expressed thanks to the paramedics who treated Mr Mayes, who has autism and learning difficulties, until he was taken to Addenbrooke's.

Police are still asking witnesses to contact the Serious Collision Investigation Team on 101, quoting CAD 362 of May 7.

Credit union's access point reopened

A CREDIT union's access point in Haverhill High Street has been reopened.

The Eastern Savings and Loans Credit Union's (ESLCU) Haverhill branch had been struggling to find volunteers to man the access point.

But this changed after the appointment of Peter Tatam as the credit union's business development officer, funded by Haverhill Town Council.

Mr Tatam, who has recently retired from running a financial services business, is set to be giving talks promoting the credit union, and manning its stall at local events.

The credit union's access point at Havebury Housing Partnership's offices in Haverhill High Street was reopened on Monday, and is set to be open from 11am to 1pm every Monday.

Residents who would like to learn more or access the credit union, can drop in

The re-opening event was attended by Mr Tatam, ESLCU manager Alan Boreham, CEO Chris Moles and volunteers Jackie Tatam and David Staines and former Haverhill mayor Roger Andre and Mark Jepson, of Havebury Housing.

The credit union provides low-interest loans for people who need them and promotes saving, giving every member of the union a savings account. It acts as a community-orientated alternative to a high street bank.

Members of the credit union also receive free life insurance that pays a 100 per cent bonus of the amount held in savings up to the age 64.

Suffolk Fire and Rescue were called to the Flatford Road area of Haverhill at 9.13pm, after a man in his 40s suffered burns.

He had been lighting a fire in his chimney at home when the incident occurred.

Firefighters administered first aid until the ambulance service – which sent a rapid response vehicle and an ambulance crew – arrived.

The East Anglian air ambulance also attended, landing in a nearby park.

The crew administered pain relief and a general anaesthetic before flying the man to the specialist burns unit at Broomfield Hospital in Chelmsford.

Suffolk Fire and Rescue advises residents who use fireplaces at home to make sure they have chimneys and flues regularly inspected, cleaned and maintained.

MENTAL HEALTH AWARENESS WEEK

New service to provide help with depression

ANXIETY, stress and depression are all set to be treated by a new service being launched by the Norfolk and Suffolk NHS Foundation Trust.

The Suffolk Primary Care Mental Health Service – also known as Wellbeing Suffolk – is to launch the service in the autumn.

It will aim to reach as many patients as possible in community and GP settings, providing support to enable a mentally healthy life rather than waiting for people to become ill and then treating them. It will also provide talking therapies to people with more serious mental health conditions.

Patients will be able to self-refer to the new service as well as be referred through their GP.

Young can ask experts for advice on line

NEW web services are available to help people aged 12 to 25 improve their wellbeing.

The Source is aimed at young people in Suffolk and has been refreshed to provide information on issues such as self-harming and eating disorders.

A new webchat service, Ask a 4YP Expert, is now available on the site on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays from 5pm to 7pm until the end of the summer. Young people can ask experts from charity 4YP about issues that affect them. Visit www.thesource.me.uk.

Project launched to set up advice centre

HANNAH MIRSKY

@HannahMirskyCN

HAVERHILL needs a mental health information centre to help people access services, a charity worker has said.

Jo Streeton of youth mental health charity the Cambridge Pringle Group (CPG) says the charity is hoping to set up an information service over the coming years.

She said the need became clear at a drop-in session CPG ran in March: "People definitely want somewhere they can drop in as and when they need to. They want a centre or somewhere that's identified that they can recognise and go to rather than wait three weeks for a doctor's appointment."

CPG has teamed up with mental health charity Suffolk Mind to work on the project, and the charities will be running a stall at Haverhill's market in Market Square tomorrow, to coincide with Mental Health Awareness Week, which runs until Sunday.

Mrs Streeton said: "It's about identifying again exactly what the need is. We have kind of identified it but we need to join the dots. There

This week is Mental Health Awareness Week. Here, Hannah Mirsky takes a look at what is going on in Haverhill to help and support people affected by mental health issues are services in Haverhill but people don't know how to access them.

"What we are working on is building up a bit of a picture."

She said that there were many peer support groups set up by local people suffering from particular conditions which were not well known.

She said that if people wanted to access any such groups or set one up, the two charities were able to help, with Suffolk Mind having qualified workers who can go in to peer groups and advise them on issues.

The service Mrs Streeton hoped the charities could provide was a centre that people with mental health problems could go to find quick and easy information and support: whether that was to find an appropriate service, connect with people with similar problems, or set up a group themselves.

She continued: "There's the Haverhill directory, but it covers everything, and people don't want to have to go through 10 pages. People want face-to-face contact because you need that nurturing, you need that compassion."

The project is currently receiving some funding from CPG. Mrs Streeton hopes that within four or five years they will be able to buy permanent premises.

In the meantime, she is encouraging anyone who has or is aware of any free space that the charity could use to get in touch.

To contact Mrs Streeton, email her at jo1.cpg@gmail.com or call her on 07856 222 093.

County leads way in mental health support

SUFFOLK has become the first county to introduce a new three-pronged approach to mental health incidents.

Suffolk police have teamed up with clinical commissioning groups for east and west Suffolk and the Norfolk and Suffolk NHS Foundation Trust to create the new system.

It will see mental health nurses in the force's command and control room giving advice to local officers managing mental health-related issues. There is also set to be a mental health triage car in which a mental health professional will be able to attend incidents across the county. The final prong of the approach is the liaison and diversion practitioners who provide support for vulnerable people as they go through the justice system.

Police and crime commissioner Tim Passmore, pictured, said: "I am absolutely delighted to see that Suffolk is leading the way in its approach to mental health support."

COUNCIL

NEW MAYOR:
Cllr David Roach

Haverhill has a new mayor

HAVERHILL's new mayor was named at a ceremony on Tuesday night.

Town councillor David Roach, who has served as deputy mayor for the last year, will be Mayor of Haverhill for 2016/17, it was decided at annual town meeting and council meeting.

He described himself as being "chuffed to bits" to be elected to the role, and continued: "Thank you to everybody for giving me the privilege of being the mayor. I hope to do it justice."

His deputy mayor for the coming year was named as Cllr Paula Fox.

Retiring mayor Cllr Betty McLatchy added two new events to the mayor-making ceremony, which was held in the auditorium at Haverhill Arts Centre.

One addition was a performance by the choir of Samuel Ward Academy, who sang You Raise Me Up and a medley of Disney songs.

The other was the introduction of the mayor's Community Excellence Awards.

She presented certificates to representatives of three different groups who she said worked hard for the community and whose work was under-appreciated.

The first group was the Haverhill Community First Responders, who attend 999 calls and carry out first aid until the ambulance service arrive.

The second was the Haverhill Town Pastors, who walk the streets of Haverhill from 10pm to 3am on Friday and Saturday nights. They provide chocolate and water, first aid, moral support and assistance to anyone who needs it in Haverhill at those times.

The third and final group to receive an award was the women employed by a St Edmundsbury Borough Council contractor who clean and maintain Haverhill's public toilets.

Cllr McLatchy said: "When visitors come to our town they particularly notice the excellence of the toilets – particularly town twinning groups from France and Germany."

In her outgoing mayor's report, she outlined the town council's achievements for the year. These included the adoption of the youth strategy that could see a third skate park built in Haverhill, and the business plan currently being drawn up by the council for what could be done with Haverhill Corn Exchange. She also included the £20,000 raised for her healthcare fund, Haverwell, which has enabled her to put in an order on an ultrasound machine for the town.

EMPLOYMENT

Arts centre celebrates long service

A TOWN council employee celebrated 20 years working at the Haverhill Arts Centre on Friday.

Mary Argent started there as a St Edmundsbury Borough Council employee in 1996, two years after the reopening of the centre, and transferred to Haverhill Town Council in 2005. In 2011 she used her first aid skills to resuscitate University of the Third Age conductor Charles Shipp after he had a heart attack on stage.

Mr Shipp was one of 30 people who attended a tea party held in honour of Mrs Argent on Friday. He made a speech of appreciation and Mrs Argent was presented with flowers, a gift, and a letter of long service.

Arts centre arts and leisure manager Nick Keeble said: "Mary is a key member of staff who makes sure that she gives customers the very best service possible, even going as far as saving their lives!"

Supporting those with dementia

THIS week is Dementia Awareness Week. Did your readers know that there are around 850,000 people with dementia in the UK?

Or that an estimated 225,000 people will develop dementia this year alone? Incredibly, that's one person every three minutes.

Your readers may have seen recent media reports which suggest that people are delaying getting dementia diagnoses because they are afraid it may signal the end of their lives. This is completely understandable but I'd like to reassure your readers that there is support out there.

I work for the national charity Revitalise; we run the Jubilee Lodge centre in Chigwell, which provides respite holidays for disabled people and their carers from the region and beyond.

We also provide support for people affected by dementia and their carers through our special Alzheimer's Weeks.

We understand just how hard it can be for carers to hand over the care of their loved ones to others, and how this can prevent them from taking much-needed respite. That's why our Alzheimer's Weeks do not separate carers from their loved ones, but instead enable them to spend quality time together.

For more information about our innovative Alzheimer's Weeks and to find out how you can support out vital work, please visit: www.revitalise.org.uk or call 0303 303 0145.

Helping you build your own

THE housing shortage, rocketing rents and sky-high house prices mean that quality, affordable homes are out of reach for many people. But all over the country communities are refusing to be beaten by the housing crisis by building their own.

That's why, at Locality, we are encouraging people to tackle the housing crisis head-on by building their own. Our new programme will help local people start up their own projects to provide affordable, decent homes for themselves, their families and their communities.

Our scheme will help groups start up their own community-led housing projects – where communities build or manage their own housing developments – and is being funded with a grant of £160,000 from the Nationwide Foundation. It will support 22 groups across England to get started in building homes for their communities.

Community-led housing can help tackle the following problems facing neighbourhoods:

- young people struggling to get on the housing ladder because of high house prices
- older residents who want to downsize, but can't find the right properties without moving out of the area
- those in need, such as unemployed people or single parents, have little chance of finding decent

- limited supply of reasonably priced family homes
 - developers are not building the kind of homes people want or need
 - long waiting lists for social housing

English Touring Opera musicians visit primary school

CASTLE Camps C of E Primary School received a special visit and performance by English Touring Opera (ETO), to the delight of its pupils and staff.

Musicians and singers treated the school to a live performance of the multi-sensory opera Dust Child. The opera, composed by James Garner and Anna Pool is one of two new operas for young people created every spring.

The children were encouraged to take an active part in the show.

Head teacher, Miss Alexandra O'Connor said: "We are extremely grateful to the company for providing our children with such an outstanding and accessible introduction to the world of opera."

"It was a pleasure to observe the total engagement of every child, from the youngest to the oldest and to experience the sense of awe and wonder pervading the room.

"We hope to welcome back the English Touring Opera to Castle Camps in the near future."

The visit forms part of English Touring Opera's award-winning education work which reaches 12,000 people every year through 250 workshops and performances. There are creative projects across the country for every kind of school, including a unique strand of operas for those with special needs.

Tim Yealland, Head of Education at the ETO said: "We are delighted that Dust Child proved a perfect fit both for the school hall and for the school's younger children."

"ETO is always seeking new relationships and it is thrilled with the new partnership with Castle Camps."

HISTORY

Town workplace history project draws to a close

HANNAH MIRSKY

@HannahMirskyCN

MORE THAN 200 people have taken part in a project to create a digital archive about working life in Haverhill.

The Haverhill Family History Group's "Haverhill at Work" project was launched in the autumn last year. It has involved drop-in sessions for employees of local companies and recorded interviews.

The history group is set to put on an exhibition of its findings at the Haverhill Arts Centre in September or October, and there are hopes to create an online archive of the pictures and hours or video and audio recordings that have been collated during the project.

Chair of Haverhill Family History Group, Brian Thompson, said of the interviews: "They far exceeded our expectations. We have had quite a few drop-in sessions and over 260 people attended."

He said that around 40 recorded interviews had also taken place, and estimated that by the time the ONE Haverhill-funded project finished, the group would have 100 hours of recorded material to archive.

He said that some of the people who had been recorded had even bought their own equipment and began recording their own life stories for their families to listen to.

Mr Thompson added: "From a social point of view it really has paid dividends. When we applied for the grant in the first place, it wasn't just a matter of charting memories: we wanted people to come along and meet up with old friends."

There are just two of the drop-in sessions left: one for former employees of Bradnams, PBM or other local firms on Saturday, May 28 and one for people who worked at Blagdon Chemicals, Koch Light or Genzyme on Thursday, June 9. Both of these will take place between 2pm and 4pm in the studio at Haverhill Arts Centre.

BACK IN TIME: Pictures collected by the history group as part of the project

Once these and the recorded interviews have concluded, the history group will prepare an exhibition of 18 boards, covering topics such as social clubs, job advertising and gender differences.

To find out more call Mr Thompson on (01440) 712 652.

GETTING THEIR SKATES ON: Wheelie good fun at Skate Mania at Haverhill Leisure Centre

Cash aid for Skate Mania

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

COUNCILLORS have donated £2,300 from their locality budgets to get a roller skating event off the ground.

Skate Mania, which runs from 2pm on Saturdays at Haverhill Leisure Centre in the town's Ehringshausen Way, was launched at the end of last month.

But it was only made possible thanks to the town's borough councillors Betty and Ivor McLatchy, Paula Fox, David Roach and John Burns, who donated money for roller skates in all sizes, disco lights and equipment.

New mayor Cllr Roach, who was a keen roller skater in his youth, said: "I had no hesitation in helping out with the project."

The first event on April 23 was attended by 115 people.

Band and actors join forces for 1980's northern drama

HAVERHILL'S brass band and theatre company are joining forces for the first time to put on a gritty northern drama.

Brassed Off, based on the 1996 film of the same name, is being performed at Haverhill Arts Centre from June 8 to 11.

More than 30 performers from Haverhill Silver Band and the town's Centre Stage Theatre Company – including some children – are taking part in the show. It will be the first time the two performing arts groups appear on stage together.

Director David Hart described the show as a "gritty romantic comedy". It is set in the wake of the 1980's miners' strikes, as Grimley Colliery closes down. It follows the colliery brass band as they become British champions, and young bandsman Andy as he is reunited with his childhood sweetheart – only to discover that she works for management.

Mr Hart said: "It's been a favourite film of mine – I remember seeing it when it came out. It's very poignant, it's very funny.

HANNAH MIRSKY

@HannahMirskyCN

"I suppose more than anything there's the fact that it involves a brass band and we've got one of the best bands in the south of England in Haverhill."

The show takes on the conflicts within the band as the members prepare for the coal mine to close.

Mr Hart said: "The central character is Tony the band conductor, for whom music is everything. He's always saying: 'Why are you worried? We're good enough to get to the national finals.' [The players] are saying: 'What's the point of having a colliery band if the pit's been shut?'"

Four actors have been learning to mime playing instruments so that they can slot into the band during the production.

The silver band's musical director, Mark Ager, is taking on one of the main roles in the play, and the other musicians have been brushing up on their acting skills.

One scene that requires them to stretch their thespian muscles involves the band in the play performing terribly at the Whit Friday March Contest because they are drunk.

The real-life Whit Friday March Contest still takes place, and the Haverhill Silver Band is travelling to the village of Saddleworth near Manchester this weekend to take part, accompanied by director Mr Hart.

As well as being good preparation for the show, the Saddleworth competition is one of the most prestigious in the country, with thousands of spectators and winners chosen by experienced judges.

Tickets for Brassed Off are available at www.haverhillartscentre.co.uk or by calling (01440) 714 140.

NEWS IN BRIEF

1,000 tonnes of muck and straw catch fire

IT took fire crews a whole weekend to make sure a fire in the open was extinguished – after more than 1,000 tonnes of muck and straw caught fire.

Suffolk Fire and Rescue was called to the blaze, in Hundon Road, Barnardiston, at 4.32pm on Saturday, and the job was only concluded at 10.25am on Monday. An initial stop was recorded at around 11pm on Saturday.

A crew from Clare fire station attended the scene, and called for back up from a crew from Haverhill fire station.

The crews were assisted by a Unimog – an off-road vehicle fitted with a high-pressure fire-fighting system – from Bury St Edmunds.

Hospital named as one of best in country

THE nearest hospital to Haverhill has been named as one of the best in the country for the second year running.

West Suffolk Hospital received the "top hospital" accolade from independent healthcare intelligence company CHKS at an awards ceremony in London last week.

It was one of 40 hospitals from across the country to receive the award, based on 22 key areas, including clinical effectiveness, health outcomes, efficiency, patient experience and quality of care.

Judges look at data including length of stay, hospital acquired infections, and inpatient surveys.

Students in training for Scafell Pike challenge

HANNAH MIRSKY

@HannahMirskyCN

A GROUP of 13 Haverhill students are taking on the highest mountain in England to raise money for charity.

The Year 8 pupils at Samuel Ward Academy, in Chalkstone Way, started training on April 15 to climb Scafell Pike in the Lake District.

They are preparing to climb the 3,209ft mountain in September to raise money for Children in Need.

A number of them also were involved in the school's swimathon which raised more than £3,000 for the charity, and this year they're hoping to raise even more.

George Farrington, 13, said: "I wanted to take part in this because I'm very passionate about climbing. I really want to do it because it's Children in Need and it's helping children."

Abbeycroft Leisure is allowing the students to use its facilities free of charge and has even designed a special training programme for them. The students are training there every Friday, including using the gym and doing circuit training.

They are set to undertake a practice walk and overnight camp in July before taking on Scafell Pike on September 2 to 4.

Some of the students taking part, such as George, have some experience of hiking, but 13-year-old

Grace Clasey said: "It's very new to me because I'm really scared of heights. I wanted to get over my fears but I didn't realise it was that high until I looked on Google!"

Explore Outdoor has provided the students with a mountain guide, and David Hudson Roofing has provided their hoodies and T-shirts.

New company promises fresh lunches delivered to your office

A HAVERHILL couple have founded a new business to take fresh, healthy lunches direct to workplaces around the town.

Jon Grimwood and Louise Bayley set up food delivery service fresh2u in April.

The couple – who have a nine-year-old son – are operating the business from their home in Haverhill's Weddell Road.

Jon, 49, who worked as the head chef at Haverhill Golf Club for 10 years, has even converted the home's former garage into a food preparation unit where lunches are made daily.

Louise, 42, said: "He wanted to make a change and branch out, and we both feel that Haverhill is quite an up-and-coming place. There's a lot of development things going on and a lot of potential to strike out and have a business that goes through the whole of Haverhill."

The business model – in which residents or companies place an order and fresh2u's branded van delivers them the following day – was based on Louise's own experience of working in an office.

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

She said: "I worked for many years in Cambridge and I always used to have this thing of nipping out for lunch – very often I wouldn't take an hour break. I wanted something quick and easy."

The company has already been providing business lunches to employers such as Herma and Sigma-Aldrich in Haverhill, as well as individual employees at workplaces ranging from nail salons to doctors' surgeries.

Louise said about the food available: "It's freshly made, it's healthy stuff. We've got little bits like rocky roads but what we are not doing is selling Coke or things that are a bit fast food, a bit processed."

"My feeling is that it's kind of based on a similar idea to something like Pret A Manger, where it's freshly made and sold on the day. It's not things that sit in fridge shelves for long periods of time."

Louise has a separate part-time job as well as working for fresh2u.

She said: "It's good to have your own things as well, otherwise you talk about the business 24/7. We have to say after seven o'clock in the evening we've got to stop discussing it."

She said that positives of working from home alongside her husband were that they could talk about the business any time they needed to and Jon had easy access to his catering unit.

To find out more about fresh2u or order a meal, visit www.fresh2u.online or call Jon and Louise on 07492 905 255.

Thrift Energy scheme saves £££s

WITH ecological concerns rarely out of the news these days, an increasing number of people are beginning to realise that becoming more energy efficient is not only good for the environment but also a valuable long-term investment. It sometime seems an impossible combination though, to save money and increase the value of your property while helping the environment at the same time.

Ely business Thrift Energy, however, firmly and passionately believes that this can and should happen, and has been a committed supporter of the Green Deal Home Improvement Fund since its launch by the Department of Energy and Climate Change in June 2014.

The government-funded scheme allows homeowners and private landlords to claim a voucher to help fund improvements, including the installation of double-glazing, solid wall insulation or energy-efficiency heating.

Having already managed to save an estimated £1,000,000 per year off fuel bills for thousands of residents and property owners by providing proper insulation – both improving people's health and reducing their carbon footprint – Thrift is now encouraging Cambridgeshire residents to take full advantage of limited funding available as part of the Cambridge Green Deal Communities Scheme.

Money through the scheme,

THRIFT ENERGY: Green Deal funding is available until June 30 – check the form at www.thriftenergy.co.uk which is Phase 2 of the Green Deal Fund, is available until June 30 on a first come, first served basis – it is not means tested.

The grants cover part of the cost of installing solid wall insulation, up to a maximum of £4,000 per property for home owners and £5,000 for private landlords, who are expected to pay a minimum of 25% of the cost.

For those renting, there may be a maximum of £1,000 available for other improvements recommended on an Energy Performance Certificate, such as high efficiency gas boilers or cavity wall insulation.

The Energy Saving Trust estimates that bill payers can save up to £460 per year due to the insulation conserving heat and of course the process also improves the look of the property. The Insulated Render and Cladding Association (INCA) also believe solid wall insulation will increase the value of the property.

Other benefits of the insulation – which is guaranteed for 25 years – would include a warmer and more comfortable home and reduced noise and damp.

Thrift Energy's skilled installation teams are able to create a number of decorative finishes, ensuring that the character of your home is maintained.

Thrift is one of Cambridge City Council's approved providers for this scheme, and is keen to get as many people as possible on board before the deadline at the end of August (work must be completed by August 31 this year).

Established in 2012, the company is one of the UK's most experienced Green Deal installers, regularly providing expert advice to both domestic and commercial clients.

For more information call the company on 0800 6893415 or (01353) 723333, or email them at info@thriftenergy.co.uk. Alternatively visit thriftenergy.co.uk to complete a form or visit the office at 1 Regal Lane, Soham, Ely, CB7 5BA.

and equipment for most domestic, building and gardening tasks.

The family-run business, founded by Malcolm Evans in 1969 from his home in Duxford, grew steadily and in 1983, following further expansion, moved to a purpose-built unit on Station Road, Whittlesford, where they are still based – just off the A505 and junction 10 of the M11.

Today their large showroom boasts an extensive selection of garden and forestry machinery and equipment, catering for both the domestic and professional user. And when you visit or contact Duxford Hire and Supply you can be assured of first-class attention, products and after-sales service.

Malcolm is still at the helm, with his team including wife Julie, son Martin, and industry-qualified mechanics Justin and son Paul. Says Malcolm: "The company has progressed a lot since we started, but still offers high quality products with personal service, only on a much larger scale."

So whether you are looking for a new machine, need yours serviced or repaired, or require a comprehensive hire service, pop in to see their showroom or telephone on (01223) 833570. There is also a comprehensive website to visit at your leisure duxfordhireandsupply.co.uk.

HAVERHILL RFC head coach Martin Hughes is one of 30 Suffolk rugby coaches to have received training thanks to QBE Coaching Club, a joint initiative from QBE Insurance and the Rugby Football Union.

B&Q trio aiming high for zoological society funds

More news from your area at cambridge-news.co.uk/haverhill

TAKING IT STEP BY STEP: Julie Davies, Amanda Procto and Dave Farmer are climbing Mount Kilimanjaro. Picture: Richard Patterson

THREE colleagues at a DIY store are preparing to climb the fourth-highest mountain in the world to raise money for a zoological society.

Amanda Procto, front-end supervisor at Haverhill's B&Q, is preparing to climb Mount Kilimanjaro in Tanzania alongside Julie Davies, of the store's decor department, and Dave Farmer, of the HR department.

The trio, who will be taking on the climb next January, are aiming to raise £3,900 each for the Zoological Society of East Anglia (ZSEA).

The charity supports Banham Zoo in Norfolk and wildlife park Africa Alive! in Kessingland, Suffolk. Both work to promote conservation and animal welfare.

Amanda, 36, said she had a lifelong love of animals, and decided to take on the challenge after receiving an email from the charity asking for volunteers.

She said: "I don't really know why I said yes. I'd never slept in a tent and I'm not the most active person, but it's something I feel really passionate about."

Amanda, who lives in Haverhill, Dave, who lives in Newmarket and Julie, who lives in Linton, have a training schedule which outlines how fit they need to be at different times to be ready to take on the challenge.

Amanda said: "It's happening slowly but surely. I've joined a gym and I'm doing some classes there, trying to get fit."

In the run-up to the trek, the team will be organising fundraising events in Haverhill, including a fun day at B&Q on July 23.

Amanda said they hoped to have a representative from Africa Alive! bringing some of the wildlife park's animals to Haverhill and talking about the charity.

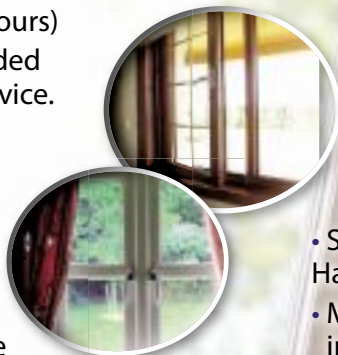

Kilimanjaro is the tallest mountain in Africa, and the fourth-tallest in the world, standing 19,341ft above sea level. It normally takes between five and nine days to reach the summit.

A magical half term

HAVERHILL Arts Centre has a magical show for children this half term.

Blunderbus Theatre presents a new version of The Sorcerer's Apprentice on Thursday, June 2, at 11am and 1.30pm.

There are also two family films to while away the hours.

In The Sorcerer's Apprentice Charlie Hubble is a little boy with a very big dream: he wants to be a world class magician. So he saves up his pocket money to buy The Big Book of Magic and sets off to Mr Zaccor's shop to buy it. But Mr Zaccor is no ordinary shopkeeper, he's a real-life sorcerer!

And he has a very special job for Charlie...

Zootropolis 2D – the animated tale of Judy Hopps, a determined young rabbit who enlists in the local police force – is screening at the arts centre on Tuesday, May 31, at 2.30pm and Friday, June 3 at 10.30am.

The martial arts loving panda, Po returns in Kung Fu Panda 3 on Friday, June 3, at 2.30pm. In this episode, Po teams up with his long-lost father to train a village of clumsy, fun-loving pandas to defeat a supernatural villain.

■ Thursday, May 19 – Friday, May 27.

■ Now in his 51st year as a professional musician Froggie (Raymond Froggatt) returns to the arts centre tomorrow at 7.30pm. Froggie and his band are still in great demand, still touring, still recording, and his songs are still being covered by other stars such as Gladys Knight. He is famed for his ability to make the audience both laugh and cry, so to experience both pain and joy at the hands of Froggie's pen, don't delay, call today.

■ Discover Arts has given audiences full access to some of the world's most captivating galleries, theatres and works of art. Teatro alla Scala: The Temple of Wonders on Thursday, May 26, at 7.30pm is a film that leads us through the main historical, musical, social and political events in the Milan opera house La Scala's 238 year history. Thanks to historical music and theatre greats such as Giuseppe Verdi and Arturo Toscanini, and contemporary arts directors including Franco Zeffirelli and Patrice Chéreau, Teatro Alla Scala has upheld its position as a world-class theatre throughout the years. The story is beautifully brought to life on the big screen through statements and commentary from musicians, experts and aficionados, and features photographs, musical scores, paintings and videos from centuries of archive material.

■ On the cinema front Tom Hanks and Mark Rylance star in Steven Spielberg's Bridge of Spies (12A) today at 7.30pm. This is the story of Brooklyn lawyer James Donovan who must negotiate the release of an American spy-plane pilot shot down over Russia in 1960. Eddie The Eagle (PG) is the literally uplifting story of have-a-go ski jumper Eddie Edwards, one of Britain's best-known sporting figures. He was more famous for losing than he was for winning, but dearly loved for his tireless enthusiasm and eccentricities, this amusing take on Eddie's life is showing on Tuesday, May 24, at 7.30pm with a 1.30pm matinee on Monday, June 13. Dev Patel stars as real-life mathematical prodigy Srinivasa Ramanujan in

The Man Who Knew Infinity (12A) on Wednesday, May 25, at 7.30pm. In 1913, Cambridge don G.H. Hardy persuades him to leave Madras to further his astonishing talent. However, once at Trinity College, he suffers racial and social prejudice. Ralph Fiennes stars in A Bigger Splash (15) on Saturday, May 21, at 7.30pm. Marianne, an ageing rock star, is enjoying an extended holiday on a Sicilian island with filmmaker boyfriend Paul. Their peace is disrupted when Harry, her bombastic ex and his precocious daughter, Penelope, turn up to stay. Finally Reel Culture Dheepan (15), won director Jacques Audiard the Palme d'Ore at Cannes with his gripping drama. Three Tamil refugees pretend to be a family for the chance of a new life on a Paris housing estate, but soon find themselves occupying a conflict zone reminiscent of the one they left behind. You're going to be made up by the new Givenchy DS 3

NO you're not dreaming: this really is a DS 3 called 'Givenchy Le Makeup', and it's coming to a showroom near you – but possibly only if there's a mirror handy.

Limited to a run of 500 in the UK, the design-focused trim grade can be bought as a hatchback or a Cabrio, and with manual or automatic gears. They will all use the same characterful 108bhp turbocharged three-cylinder petrol engine and share Opaline White paint.

The rose pink-lined driver's arm rest will house a bespoke Givenchy Le

THE DS 3 GIVENCHY LE MAKEUP: Prices for this selfie-friendly newcomer start at £19,395

MakeUp kit, and yes, there are vanity mirrors inside both sun visors, complete with special LED lighting for "the best possible illumination, day and night".

In a press release, DS said: "Just over half of all DS 3 drivers are women, so this limited-edition has been designed to meet the expectations of many modern day women, who are always on the go."

That design includes Givenchy badges, a rose pink dashboard and black leather upholstery, with a purple roof – although the Cabrio soft-top is in black while the roof surround alone is purple.

The Givenchy Le MakeUp kit features Le Rouge lipstick shade 315 (Framboise Velours), Noir Couture mascara shade 1 (Black Satin), Prisme Visage face powder in a choice of shades and Le Vernis nail polish shade 32 (Whisper Purple), a limited edition to match the car's roof.

Should you so wish, you can also buy these Givenchy products at DS World Paris during a special celebratory exhibition on now until June 7.

Prices for the car start at £19,395 for the hatchback manual, rising to £23,195 for the Cabrio with automatic transmission.

BARN STAR: 1968 Aston Martin DBS

DBS, 'untouched for 30 years', at auction

AN Aston Martin barn-find that has sat untouched for 30 years on the island of Jersey has been revealed to the public – and you could buy it.

The early DBS, bought in 1968, before finding its way to a new owner in the Channel Islands in 1970, has been discovered after being left untouched since 1986. It's got just 30,565 miles on the clock, unsurprisingly, given the nine-mile long, five-mile wide island was never conducive to building high mileages.

Silverstone Auctions is set to sell the car, one of only 787 ever built, at its May Sale at Silverstone race circuit next Friday.

It is in 'close to original' condition and 'essentially complete', with its six-cylinder engine and automatic gearbox still in place, although their mechanical condition has not been assessed by an expert.

To buy it will take £50,000-£60,000, say the auctioneers. Nick Whale of Silverstone Auctions said: "This is one of the most exciting barn finds of the year so far."

Insurance quotes have gone up 12% this year

CAR insurance premiums rose by an average of 12 per cent from Q1 2015 to Q1 2016, new analysis reveals.

MoneySuperMarket looked at year-on-year quarterly car insurance premiums to identify overall and regional price fluctuations. The average premium paid in Q1 2016 was £478, up 12 per cent from £428 in Q1 2015 – a stinging £50 hike. Drivers in Tonbridge (TN) saw premiums rise by almost a quarter (23 per cent – or £75). Drivers in Dartford (DA), Worcester (WR) and Wolverhampton (WV) also experienced hefty year-on-year hikes, with prices ballooning by a fifth (21 per cent).

Kevin Pratt, consumer affairs expert at MoneySuperMarket, said: "Until 2014, British motorists benefitted from a very competitive car insurance market, with prices broadly dropping year on year. However, since then it's been a bleaker picture, especially for drivers in towns such as Tonbridge and Dartford, who have seen premiums rise sharply.

INSURANCE COSTS: Always a headache – and it's getting worse

"Drivers will want to know two things – why are premiums going up, and what can I do to make sure I'm not paying more than I have to? One of the main reasons for overall price hikes is the increase in insurance premium tax (IPT) from 6 per cent to 9.5 per cent in November 2015 (it will rise again to 10 per cent of premiums in October 2016). Insurers are also charging more because of high levels of pay-outs for whiplash claims, many of which are thought to be fraudulent.

"Local price increases could be the result of a surge in accidents or car crime – each area will have its own story. But whatever the reason, higher quotes for renewal premiums should stimulate drivers to start hunting for cheaper prices. They should certainly not stomp up what their existing insurer is asking for without checking if there's a cheaper alternative."

Overall, the analysis painted a better picture for younger drivers.

Although premiums remain high for 17-19 year olds, the average policy fell by two per cent year-on-year in Q1 2016, from £1,070 to £1,052.

Drivers in Inverness also benefitted from the lowest overall premiums at £276, while drivers in East London paid the most – £922. However, East London is also in the top five postcodes with the lowest year-on-year hikes in Q1, with premiums rising just 11 per cent.

Kevin Pratt continues: "Car insurers are continuing to hike premium costs, so it's more important than ever that motorists shop around for cover, to make sure they're getting the most for their money. Insurers like to save their best deals for new customers, so there's almost always a better deal to be had by switching providers."

Kia delighted with Sportage's 'Diesel Car of the Year' win

ONLY a few months after launch, the all-new Kia Sportage has been crowned with another significant accolade, Diesel Car magazine Car of the Year. Alongside this prestigious award, Sportage was also named Best Medium sized SUV.

The all-new fourth generation Sportage bettered the competition due to its excellent specification levels, even on low grade vehicles, including Bluetooth connectivity, DAB radio and satellite navigation. This coupled with its dynamic handling and distinctive design, made this family crossover a clear choice for the top spot.

The Sportage also impressed with its competitive prices, from £17,995, with the popular 1.7 CRDi 6-speed manual version starting at £19,745. All Kias come with a seven-year warranty which helps too.

The new crossover, which was launched in February this year, has already seen unprecedented sales success, with 14,000 customers placing orders in just four months.

Editor and publisher of Diesel Car Ian Robertson commented on Kia's win: "The Sportage won the top spot because of its generous equipment levels, keen prices and excellent road manners."

BRIDGESTONE: New BMW staple

Bridgestone lands tyre deal with BMW

JAPANESE tyre giant Bridgestone has confirmed three new supply deals with BMW.

The 7 Series and X1 will now come with Bridgestone tyres as standard, the former with run-flat Potenza S001 super-sport tyres and the X1 using the Turanza T001 all-rounder.

Three of the X1's size options will have run-flat technology and three will be standard.

The news is a coup for the company, which is the largest global tyre maker and dominates every market except Europe; the stronghold of some of the very first names in tyres after the advent of the motor car.

WINNERS: Borough's first-team awards (main) and Aaron Kent with Theresa Roper
Pictures: Gary Brown

Awards double for Milne at presentation evening

JONNY Milne carried off two end-of-season honours when Haverhill Borough held their annual awards night.

Milne picked up both the supporters' player and players' player of the year awards for the first team.

Cameron Watson was named manager's player of the year and Matt Staines took the prize for ending as Borough's top scorer.

The reserve team awards saw Dean Craig end with two prizes as well.

Craig was named players' player of the year and finished the season as the second string's leading goalscorer, and Michael Austin was named as the reserves team's manager's player of the year.

There was a special tribute to former committee member John Roper, who died earlier this year.

The award for club volunteer of the year has been renamed in his honour and the prize went to Aaron

Kent for his efforts with the reserve team in the past season and was presented by Roper's wife Theresa.

The awards night follows a season which saw Borough's first-team win the Thurlo Nunn League First Division Cup and the reserves promoted to the Kershaw League, Senior B division.

Cowling appointed manager at Rovers

BEN Cowling is delighted to be back in a managerial role after resigning as Haverhill Borough chairman to take over as boss of Haverhill Rovers' first team.

The offer to get back into management was simply too good to turn down and Cowling is thrilled to be back at the sharp end after spending more than a year as chairman at Borough.

"Managing is something I haven't finished with," said Cowling, who confirmed that last season's interim boss, Tom Donati, will remain at the club in a coaching capacity.

"I feel I still have a lot to offer as a manager and there's a lot I want to achieve.

"The position at Rovers gives me the opportunity to manage at the highest level I've managed at. Going to Rovers is a big challenge and an exciting one.

"There's a good base to build on but the club does need to bring in one or two senior players."

Cowling played more than 300 games for Rovers before taking over as manager of the reserve team.

He went on to form the Haverhill Sports Association, which became Haverhill Borough upon entering the Thurlo Nunn League in 2013.

His move to Rovers means current treasurer David Hardwick will become chairman at Borough, with Martin Westcott continuing in his role as player-manager.

Having enjoyed considerable success at Borough, Cowling believes the club are now well placed to build for the future.

"But having been there from the start, he admitted that leaving for Rovers was a hard decision.

"It has been quite hard to leave," he said. "It was really good to be involved in all aspects of that club.

"Hopefully the structure and set-up is there at the club for them to carry on doing what they're doing."

Mini golf

Kelly claims big win in mini event

ADAM Kelly held his nerve to seal his second British Mini Golf Championship in a tense final round at Wroxham Barns.

The 20-year-old, from Linton, won by one shot from UK No 1 player Michael Smith, having been involved in a three-way tie with him and Sean Homer after five rounds.

But Kelly, who is in his second year of studying for a psychology degree at Lincoln University, shot 29 on the sixth round to move five shots clear.

He then had the edge over the final round to survive a fightback from Smith and clinch the title for the second time.

"Adam has been crazy about mini golf since he was about two years old," said his father, Tony, who finished fourth in the event.

"As a young child, he always wanted to find a crazy golf course on seaside holidays and he used to build courses in the back garden.

"A few years ago, we entered a tournament together as a bit of fun and soon got hooked.

"Now we are both due to represent Great Britain in international championships this summer and Adam is a two-time British champion."

Cricket

Haverhill return to winning ways

HAVERHILL returned to winning ways in the Marshall Hatchick Two Counties Championship, Division Two with a two-wicket win over Halstead.

Batting first, Halstead posted 240 all out in 48 overs.

Dan Pass and Anthony Phillips got Haverhill to 42 for 0 and after wickets began to fall, Chris Palmer (73) and Alex Burrows (42) steadied the ship. Haverhill eventually reached 241 for 8.
